

Unless the new sanctions escalation is genuinely sustained, or global oil markets see a further downturn, the current slow downward trends are likely to hold as Russia appears to have hit ...

Trading Economics provides data for 20 million economic indicators from 196 countries including actual values, consensus figures, forecasts, historical time series and news. Russia ...

Moscow, the capital city of Russia, is a vibrant economic hub with a diverse job market that continues to evolve in 2024. The city's economy is bolstered by its strong presence in industries such as finance, ...

By understanding macroeconomic trends, leveraging technological advancements, and aligning with consumer needs, companies can position themselves for sustainable growth.

Growth is observed in most sectors of the food industry, electrical engineering, the structure of machinery industry is changing, and the role of traditional specialization industries ...

The main factors influencing the industry in 2024 were the completion of the program with state support, changes in the terms of family mortgage, the completion of IT-mortgage in Moscow ...

These investments highlight the industry's diversification and commitment to high-value product development. The Russian food industry is undergoing rapid transformation, driven by increased ...

One of the key drivers of urban economic growth has become the IT industry. From 2019 to 2024, the turnover of this sector increased by 316%. Also, a significant increase - 221% - was ...

Summary "City Profile - Moscow" provides historical and forecast data on key city level metrics along with analytical coverage of the latest political, economic, social, technological, infrastructural, legal ...

This paper provides a statistical portrait of the Russian labor market during the latest period of 2010-2022. The analysis delves into both the long-term trends in its evolution and short ...

Web: <https://www.kopbeenskloof.co.za>

