

Nepal base station communication progress is slow

Disagreement over foreign exchange leads to nationwide internet outage in Nepal, impacting over 7 million users and disrupting businesses, education, and communication.

Regulatory delays have now left telecom companies vulnerable, with the possibility of interrupted services at any time. This situation has become more critical following the Nepal ...

He warned that if the government does not act immediately, Nepal could face a complete internet shutdown, disrupting businesses, banks, education, and communication across the country.

Over 90% of Nepal's international internet traffic travels through India, with Airtel providing about 70% and Tata Communications about 20%, and a May 2023 outage due to unpaid dues ...

While some areas have faced complete outages, others have experienced slow internet speeds, dropped calls, and intermittent service. The extent of the disruption varies, depending on the ...

Further internet connections were disrupted in various places due to natural calamities, beautification of the city, and floods damaging the power supplies, leading to the shutdown of several ...

Hari Dhakal, Manager and Spokesperson for Nepal Telecom, confirmed that the issue stemmed from Nepal's dependence on Indian companies for internet bandwidth. He stated that an ...

Nepal Telecommunication Authority Chairman Bhupendra Bhandari has directed immediate improvement, saying that the pace of infrastructure expansion, network improvement and project ...

Nepal Telecom had originally planned to kick off 5G trials in mid-July 2021, but the timetable was delayed after a change of government prevented assignment of the additional ...

Among the most affected were the two major telecom operators-- Nepal Telecom (NTC) and Ncell. Both providers reported interruptions in their mobile and internet services. Several Ncell ...

Nepal base station communication progress is slow

Web: <https://www.kopbeenskloof.co.za>

