

One Percent Desert Solar Power

I drew the shorter straw, so I was the one who collected the money. The present tense "I am the one" refers to the current state of affairs. You are the person responsible for carrying out that ...

Some people say a dog=one, dogs=ones, the dog=the one=that, and the dogs=the ones=those. It's a rule of thumb, but what I found was that this is not always correct.

When using the word "which" is it necessary to still use "one" after asking a question or do "which" and "which one" have the same meaning? Where do you draw the line on the ...

"Which one is the best" is obviously a question format, so it makes sense that "which one the best is" should be the correct form. This is very good instinct, and you could even argue that ...

If we covered just 1.2% of the Sahara Desert with solar panels, it could, in theory, produce enough energy to meet the entire world's annual energy needs.

According to one study, covering just 1.2 per cent of the Sahara with solar panels could generate enough electricity to power the entire world. As humanity faces the dual crises of energy...

If we covered the entire Sahara Desert with solar panels--even just 1-2% of it--we could theoretically generate enough electricity to power the entire planet several times over.

One-to-one is used when you talk about transfer or communications. You may use one-to-one when you can identify a source and a destination. For eg., a one-to-one email is one sent ...

The Sahara Desert, situated in North Africa, offers immense potential as a renewable energy source due to its scorching temperatures and abundant sunlight. With only 1% of the Sahara ...

On the one hand, I really enjoy pie, but on the other hand, I'm supposed to be on a diet. Both of these expressions use each hand to represent an opinion, as if weighing the pros and cons ...

According to a comprehensive 2023 study by the International Renewable Energy Agency (IRENA), covering just 1.2% of the Sahara Desert with solar panels could theoretically generate ...

Researchers have estimated that covering just 1.2% of the Sahara Desert with solar panels could generate enough power to meet the global energy demand. The high levels of solar ...

One Percent Desert Solar Power

While the black surfaces of solar panels absorb most of the sunlight that reaches them, only a fraction (around 15%) of that incoming energy gets converted to electricity.

Leveraging the benefits of solar energy production in the desert could be a huge step toward achieving this goal. In fact, covering just 1.2% of the Sahara Desert with solar panels could ...

How one and one"s is different from other indefinite pronouns The possessive of one (one"s) is formed the same way as the possessive of other indefinite pronouns, such as someone (someone"s), but it is ...

As @PeterShor points out, in this case "one" is the pronoun, and would never be numeric. Beyond that, as a general rule, spell out numbers 1-9, but for technical writing, it may be appropriate ...
